“Slightly Off MOMOLOGS”

In sixty-second segments, Slightly Off Supermom delivers wacky tales from the parenthood, in her never-ending battle for truth, justice and clean underwear!

Ask Dr. Slightly Off

Forget Dr. Phil or Dr. Laura, Dr. Slightly Off is the family advice expert with the wisdom and wit to slightly annoy and slightly inspire your radio listeners with her humorous response to call-in questions.

What’s Your Purse-sonality?

Purse expert, Deb DiSandro, delves into the depths of womens purses and reveals their true identity.

Because I Said So!

The Slightly Off Supermom dispenses advice to today’s parents on everything from potty training to teen-age angst.

“Deb is one of those guests that you hate to cut off the show. She’s funny, informative and entertaining. Listeners gave our segment with Deb rave reviews for its valuable insights and light-hearted approach to parenting, work family and juggling it all. We intend to have her back again and again. She gives new definition to back by popular demand!”

Maria Bailey Host of Mom Talk Radio

“Deb is a huge part of our morning show. We look forward to her segment every week because we know it will be funny and fit into what we’re talking about. Listeners love her and we do too! Slightly Off Supermom is Super Funny”

Dobie Maxwell former morning show host for KKAT-FM Salt Lake, City UT

Deb DiSandro on Television

As a syndicated family advice columnist and author, of "Tales of a Slightly Off Supermom: Fighting for Truth, Justice & Clean Underwear" Deb makes a great television guest. Recently she appeared on FOX-TV in Chicago as the expert supermom. The call-in question segment was so well received she was immediately invited back for another segment. Deb's upbeat, enthusiastic and Slightly Off take on holidays, family trends and parenting issues will energize and invigorate the listeners of your morning program or talk show.

IDEAL SPOKESPERSON FOR PRODUCTS RELATED TO MOMS/FAMILY AND WOMEN

Deb appeared on television and radio as a spokesperson for Hillshire Farm. Not only did she share a new product with the viewing audience, she brought humor, enthusiasm and her own writing talent to the project. Her long career as a family advice columnist and her fifteen year background in speaking, writing and producing her own comedy shows gives Deb the edge over other women and family spokespersons.

"I'm so pleased the way you worked in the (Hillshire Farm) messages whenever you had the opportunity, always managing to make it sound natural. You worked it into the panel discussion brilliantly, and that was a toughie. You are truly a natural."

Euro RSCG Tatham PR, Chicago, IL, former PR agency for Hillshire Farm
